How to find us

Basingstoke Counselling Service is situated at the rear of the Goldings Building within the Basingstoke Council Office complex. Entrance to BCS is gained through the left hand door. Visitors should press the intercom buzzer located to the side of the door.

Parking

A public car park serving the Civic Offices is situated opposite the Police Station and is called Parklands Car Park. You do not have to pay for this carpark but as a visitor can only stay there for up to 1.5 hours. Free parking is also available on Eastrop Lane for up to 2 hours.

There is a public car park (for which you have to pay) opposite the Red Lion Hotel which is located just off the right hand side of New Road about 50 metres before the left turning into London Road. The maximum waiting time in that car park is 3 hours.

There is also a multi-storey car park (for which you have to pay) situated in Festival Place in the centre of town which is also within easy walking distance of BCS. That car park has unlimited parking time.

On Saturdays only, parking is also available on the Eastlands Car Park (for which you have to pay). This is located next to the police station and is clearly signposted.
